SCENARIO SCRIPT

Nikki and Shauna Go At It

NARRATOR: Nikki and Shauna are walking past each other in the hall at lunchtime. Nikki and Shauna have been friends since third grade. Nikki told Shauna a secret, but instead of keeping the secret Shauna went and told all the other girls in her class what Nikki's secret was. Nikki is upset and wants to "get back" at Shauna.

NIKKI (talking to all the students in the class before the teacher enters the room): Check this out y'all, you can't trust Shauna. She is a liar and a blabber mouth. If anyone is nice to her then I'll know you don't have my back. Don't hang out with her, don't let her play on your team during volleyball, do not be nice to her.

SHAUNA (enters the room and sits down): Nikki, did you do your homework last night? I need help with one of the math questions.

NIKKI (rolls her eyes and walks away)

NARRATOR: Later that day Shauna finds notes in her locker with these comments: Shauna smells like eggs. Shauna is a liar.

SHAUNA starts to cry. She tries to tell her other friends but they laugh at her.

SHAUNA (approaches Nikki who is standing in the hall): Nikki? Are you mad at me?

NIKKI: You smell like eggs. (Nikki walks away.)

SHAUNA (continues to cry.)

NARRATOR: During P.E., the class is playing volleyball.

SHAUNA: (approaches her friends and Nikki and asks if she can play on their team) Hi everyone, is it alright if I play on your team today? I bet we'll win!

NIKKI: (runs in front of all her friends and screams) No! You're a loser! Go sit out!

NARRATOR: Frustrated by the way Nikki is treating her and the silent treatment she is getting from her friends decides its time to talk to her gym teacher. Mr. Gunther decides to bring both of the girls into the hall to try and resolve the issue.
