

Sense of Urgency It is more important to keep things moving and take on more work than to slow down, step back to re-prioritize, or take care of oneself or others. The important can be sacrificed for the urgent.

This shows up in Supervision like...

What We Could do Instead Is...

Paternalism Those with power feel authorized to think and act on behalf of those without power.

This shows up in Supervision like...

What We Could do Instead Is...

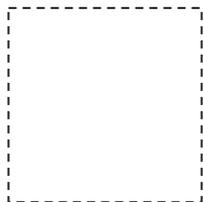

Quantity over Quality Things that are measured are prioritized, examined and discussed. People's emotional needs or attention to process are secondary to concrete outcomes.

Individualism It is believed that people work best individually, rather than collectively. Value is placed on self-sufficiency, efficacy and economizing of time and resources in completing work.

This shows up in Supervision like...

What We Could do Instead Is...

This shows up in Supervision like...

What We Could do Instead Is...

